MORNING NEWS

Nepra reduces electricity charges for three months: (Economy: Positive)

The National Electric Power Regulatory Authority (Nepra) on Thursday notified about 80 paise per unit net reduction in national power rates for June and then Rs1.99 per unit for July and August, with a cumulative financial impact of about Rs56 billion. The unusual relief over the three months — June to August — has resulted owing to the combined effect of two concurrent tariff adjustments — one for the monthly fuel cost for April and another for quarterly tariff adjustments for the first quarter (January-March 2026). In its first determination relating to the monthly fuel cost adjustment for the consumption month of April, Nepra worked out and notified Rs1.19 per unit increase in fuel costs to be recovered from consumers in the current month's (June) billing, with an additional fiscal gain to distribution companies (Discos) of Rs11bn.

Petrol prices set to drop in upcoming fuel review: (Economy: Neutral)

Consumers are likely to experience mixed fortunes in the upcoming petroleum price review, as petrol prices are projected to decrease slightly, while High-Speed Diesel (HSD) prices are on track for a major surge due to rising international oil costs. According to the latest working estimates based on global oil market data, petrol (PMG) prices are expected to drop by around Rs3-Rs4 per litre. Conversely, the price of HSD is projected to witness a substantial spike of Rs34-Rs35 per litre for the upcoming pricing period. Currently, petrol is available at retail across the country at Rs381.78 per litre, while HSD is being sold at Rs380.78 per litre. If the government decides to pass on the impact of international price movements and exchange rate adjustments without altering current taxes and margins, the new retail price of petrol will drop to around Rs378 per litre. Meanwhile, the price of diesel will jump significantly to an estimated Rs415 per litre.

Govt sets Rs290/$ exchange rate: (Economy: Neutral)

The federal government has set the Rs290 to a dollar exchange rate for the new budget, which shows a nominal depreciation of 3.5% in the next fiscal year and indicates its comfort in meeting external debt repayment obligations. The exchange rate has been determined for the purpose of calculating disbursements and repayments of foreign loans and grants, as Pakistan officially follows a 'flexible exchange rate policy'. The finance ministry has issued an office memorandum to all concerned ministries and divisions, asking them to consider this rate for budget allocations for the fiscal year 2026-27. The government has now announced June 10 as the date for the budget speech, subject to final endorsement by Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif.
