MORNING NEWS

Efforts afoot for second round of US-Iran talks: (Economy: Neutral to Positive)
Another round of Iran-United States dialogue was being actively pursued as Pakistan, regional capitals, and major powers have stepped up efforts to prevent the fragile process from sliding back into confrontation, diplomats said on Monday. intermediaries were working to bring Tehran and Washington back to the negotiating table, with Pakistan at the centre of the efforts, backed by Turks and Egyptians. The immediate priority, they said, was to extend the ceasefire. The ceasefire between the US and Iran, brokered on April 7 after weeks of conflict, is set to expire on April 22. While technically intact, it is increasingly precarious. The US has moved toward enforcing a naval blockade in the Strait of Hormuz, prompting a warning from Iran that such a move would be a violation of the ceasefire.

Crude oil falls 3%, markets lean towards diplomacy despite stalled US-Iran talks: (Economy: Positive)
Oil prices fell sharply on Tuesday despite heightened tensions in the Middle East, as markets bet on a possible diplomatic breakthrough between the United States and Iran even after Washington moved to block Iranian ports. Brent crude dropped 2.7% to $96.66 a barrel, while US crude slid 3% to $96.13, with traders weighing signs that talks could still resume following the collapse of weekend negotiations. Sources told Reuters that both sides have kept the door open to dialogue, while a US official pointed to forward movement towards a potential agreement. The United States has continued to engage Tehran even as its military enforced a blockade of Iranian ports, a move aimed at increasing pressure after talks failed to deliver a deal.

Trump says Iranian 'fast-attack' ships that come close to US blockade will be eliminated: (Economy: Negative)
U.S. President Donald Trump warned that any Iranian "fast-attack" ships that go near a U.S. maritime blockade on Iran would be eliminated. Trump made the threat shortly after the U.S. blockade on vessels entering and departing Iran had been due to come into effect at 1400 GMT on Monday. Describing Iran's navy as "completely obliterated" during the six-week-long war between the U.S. and Iran, Trump posted on Truth Social: "What we have not hit are their small number of, what they call, 'fast attack ships,' because we did not consider them much of a threat."

MBS's personal gesture for Pakistan: commits $3bn deposit: (Economy: Positive)
In a significant personal and special gesture of brotherhood, Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman has extended crucial financial support of $3 billion as a deposit to Pakistan, underscoring the Kingdom's continued commitment to Islamabad's economic stability. The Crown Prince dispatched Saudi Arabia's finance minister to Pakistan a few days ago on a brief visit to assure the Pakistani leadership, on behalf of MBS, that the country need not worry about the foreign exchange gap likely to arise due to the withdrawal of around $3 billion by a Gulf country. "The purpose of the visit was singular - to convey a firm assurance to Pakistan's leadership that Riyadh would step in to fill an emerging gap in the country's foreign exchange reserves,"

Fitch Ratings affirms Pakistan at B-, outlook stable: (Economy: Neutral)

Fitch Ratings, one of the world's leading credit rating agencies affirmed Pakistan's long-term foreign currency issuer default rating at 'B-' with a stable outlook. "Pakistan's rating affirmation reflects progress on fiscal consolidation and macro stability measures, broadly in line with its International Monetary Fund (IMF) programme and supporting its funding capacity. Foreign exchange buffers rebuilt over the past year provide a cushion against the economic impact of the war in the Middle East, while Pakistan's role as a ceasefire broker may provide tangible benefits and partly offset external pressures," the agency said in a statement. The US-based agency highlighted that the country's high exposure to the global energy price shock remained a key risk, particularly if it led to a sharp drop in foreign exchange reserves. "Pakistan sources up to 90% of oil from the Gulf and has limited storage capacity, creating high exposure to the Middle East conflict and constricted energy supply via the Strait of Hormuz," it said, adding the fuel subsidies since early March had been funded by reallocating expenditure from other areas of the budget, while costs had been reduced by large pump-price hikes and the switch to a more targeted support scheme from April.

Pakistan pushes for reform, investment: (Economy: Positive)

A severe global energy shock triggered by the US-Iran war has dominated discussions at the World Bank-IMF Spring meetings, where Finance Minister Muhammad Aurangzeb held a series of high-level engagements focused on stabilising Pakistan's economy amid tightening external conditions. Oil prices have surged by around 50 per cent, shipping through the Strait of Hormuz has been significantly disrupted, and global supply chains for gas and fertiliser have been severely strained. Developing countries — particularly energy importers with high debt burdens and limited fiscal buffers — are expected to bear the brunt of the shock. The IMF estimates that $20-$50bn in emergency support may be needed in the near term. Against this backdrop, Mr Aurangzeb's meetings centred on reform continuity, debt sustainability, social protection and private-sector-led growth. The World Bank Group, the finance minister reviewed Pakistan's economic outlook and the impact of external shocks stemming from the Middle East conflict. Both sides emphasised strengthening targeted social protection systems to shield vulnerable segments of society from rising energy and food costs. He also called for a coordinated federal and provincial approach to address Pakistan's demographic challenges and requested World Bank assistance in developing a comprehensive national master plan.

Govt reviews plan to cut GST to 10% for dairy products: (Economy: Positive)

The government has moved to address key structural and taxation challenges in Pakistan's dairy sector, focusing on reducing GST, improving productivity, and formalizing the industry. Officials are working on proposals to lower sales tax on dairy products from 18% to 10%, alongside broader reforms aimed at improving genetic quality of livestock, expanding access to banking and financial support for farmers, and introducing stricter regulatory measures to ensure the availability of only pasteurized or properly packaged milk.

Pakistan car sales jump 45% in July-March FY26: (Economy: Positive)

Car sales in Pakistan have continued to rise by 45% during the first nine months of the current fiscal year (July to March FY 2025-26) as Internal Combustion Engine (ICE) vehicles still prevail over Electric Vehicles (EVs) despite the government's support towards emerging EV industry. According to data released by the PAMA, there was a substantial rise in the sales of all two-three-and-four wheelers, while the sales of farm tractors continued to decrease as usual for several months. Car sales in Pakistan (excluding LCVs, Vans, and Jeeps) increased by 45% to 109,655 units in July-March FY26, as compared to the 75,397 units sold in the same period the previous year. Sales of jeeps and pickups rose by 35% to 34,374 units.
